Martin Cockriel

Born in Missouri, working on his family's 120-acre farm, our ASHA Member Of The Day had to become a man at the age of 12 as his father died and the youngster had to drop out of school to become the head of the house. Horses were used to plow the fields at that time and one of his favorites was a Saddlebred that he rode 25 miles to have bred. He won a halter class with the resulting foal and sold it to Sug Utz and from then on training horses is what he has done.

He left the state of Missouri and after stints in three other states he and his bride Barbara packed up and moved to the mountains of Colorado in 1955 where he has become an institution training American Saddlebreds, Morgans, Arabians, Quarter Horses, National Show Horses and just about anything else with four legs.

Our honoree has become known as one of the hardest working, kindest gentleman you'll ever meet. A self-made trainer he has influenced the likes of Clyde Wilson, Leo Ruiz, Patty Wooters, Barbara Christenson, Bruce Dixon, Jennifer Dixon, Jon Walker, Mike Mooney, Jim Bowman, Linda Owens, Judy Bauman, Mitch Sperte and Debbie Blumberg. In 1998, he was inducted in the UPHA Hall of Fame.

This trainer's show season starts in January at the National Western Stock Show in Denver and ends in November at the American Royal. Among the top horses for which he will forever be remembered include the gaited stallion Spellcaster, Betty's Gloriann, Firestorm Of Genius, Kabu, <sup>CH</sup> High On Champagne, Roseridge Posted Note, Catalytic, and the great world's champion road mare, So Lovely.
