ASHA Member of the Day

The American Saddlebred Horse Association is pleased to recognize as its Member Of The Day, a lady who has given her life to the betterment of the American Saddlebred as an exhibitor, breeder, and more importantly as a leader. She grew up successfully competing on the Missouri circuit as a junior exhibitor. In her adult life she and her late husband Roy, established Redwing Farm, which has become known as a select breeding operation. The stallion Radiant Sultan produced many stars for the family and its customers and currently world's champion Designed has represented Redwing Farm as one of the top sires in the country.

To say that our honoree has given back to the industry three-fold would be a huge understatement. Never afraid to tackle tough issues and always approaching those issues with an open mind and fairness, she made history as the first female president of the American Saddlebred Horse Association and has continued to serve the ASHA and the Registry in many ways. Her leadership skills have also represented the American Saddlebred and its owners and trainers at the highest level with the United States Equestrian Federation where she continues to wear many hats.

For her contributions, she has been recognized with the Ellen Scripps Davis Memorial Breeders' Cup and the Lifetime Achievement Award, receiving the prestigious Jimmy A. Williams Trophy. Right here in this building she has also received the Audrey Pugh Gutridge Award and induction into the World's Championship Horse Show Hall of Fame.

ASHA Executive Director Bill Whitley has this to say about our honoree. "Judy's constant leadership and involvement with the ASHA and ASR has been most valuable in moving us forward.
