This form can be used if you would like to try to identify a horse that you suspect is registered with the Registry of the American Saddlebred Horse and Breeders Association (ASHBA). You can DNA type the horse and the lab can do a search of their database for a possible match. The cost for the DNA kit and search of the database for an exact match is $150. The Registry of the ASHBA makes no warranty that a match will be found since it's possible that the horse was not DNA tested and so may not be in the database.

Note that, if the lab is able to identify the horse and if it is registered, you will still need to go through the transfer of ownership process in order to obtain a registration certificate in your ownership.
